As we lay our heads back on our pillows the night before the first day, we thought about a year's worth of school, waking up early and leaving late. Staying seven hours on campus, getting tired and we already missing summer break. We wondered if we were able to get through this year. Here's a tip- Yes you can.

Yes we did. From pep rallies to spirit weeks to long nights of studying, we did it all. Winning football games, competing in swim meets, balling on the court, scoring flashy soccer goals, or even cradling the lacrosse balls, we did it all.

You can too. For eighth graders its moving onto high school and for fifth graders is coming into middle school. We'll get through it together. It's not yes you can anymore, Its yes we can.
